

Catalyzing Social and Economic Change in India

AIF is committed to catalyzing social and economic change in India through high impact interventions in education, public health, livelihoods and leadership development. AIF's programs are aligned with the UN's Sustainable Development Goals, a framework for collaboration between the profit and non-profit sectors, with complementary capabilities. The UN SDGs are adopted by all United Nations Member States, providing a shared blueprint for peace and prosperity for people and the planet, now and into the future with the vision of 'Leaving no one behind'.

Maternal and Newborn Survival Initiative (MANSI)

is a public-private partnership seeking to reduce maternal and child mortality by providing resources, and support to empower local communities to care for their mothers and children – and improve local health systems.

Digital Equalizer

utilizes technology to bridge the digital divide in India and transform under-resourced schools into dynamic places to teach and learn through collaborative, project-based learning.

Learning and Migration Program (LAMP)

provides access to quality education opportunities to children in areas of migration, while also advocating to communities and governments the universal right to education.

William J. Clinton Fellowship for Service in India builds the next generation of leaders committed to lasting change for underprivileged communities across India, while strengthening the civil sector landscape to be more efficient and effective.

Market Aligned Skills Training (MAST)

provides underprivileged youth with skills training and access to formal employment opportunities, including persons with disability.

Ability Based Livelihood Empowerment (ABLE)

trains persons with disabilities and facilitates their entry into the job market through advocacy, promoting inclusive growth in India.

Rickshaw Sangh

enables rickshaw drivers to own their vehicles by accessing formal credit through collectives, creating a life-changing asset and formalizing the profession through access to key social benefits.
